➤ DRINK Situated in the heart of downtown Alpharetta, brand-new rooftop restaurant and bar UP on the Roof is open and ready for business. Set to the backdrop of panoramic views of Kennesaw Mountain, this cocktail-centric eatery presents an exciting bar and craft beverage program featuring a repertoire of signature bottle cocktails and high-rise handcrafted cocktails. To pair, executive chef Max Tezza had created a shareable menu full of classic Southern dishes with an elevated twist—all made with locally sourced and seasonal ingredients. Is that winter chill still in the air?

Not to worry: UP on the Roof offers lively traditional indoor dining as well as state-of-the-art heaters and fireplaces for those seeking a view prior to spring. Says COO Kirk Watkins, "Whether you just want to drop in for an early evening drink, want to make a full night out of it or are looking for a place to enjoy a nightcap under the stars, UP is the perfect spot." 33 S. Main St., Alpharetta, catupdrinkup.net

Unique to the resto, UP on the Roof serves handcrafted bottled cocktails like It's Strawberry Time featuring Fords gin, Cointreau, strawberries, fresh thyme and a hint of lemon sour.

etuHOME's boards are for more than charcuterie, they are the perfect platter for a breakfast spread. Especially these made in collaboration with interior designer Bria Hammel.

➤ SHOP One of the easiest ways to spruce up a kitchen is through elegant, display-worthy accessories made from timeless materials that look better with age. The Bria Hammel x etuHOME Collection is just that, consisting of dual-function wood, glass and ceramic kitchen accessories that are as functional as they are beautiful. A neutral color palette of gray, cream and natural frames the entire collection, especially in the ceramics, which include staples such as handthrown stacking bowls, a pitcher and a stove-side utensil holder. Indeed, etuHOME's quintessential European-inspired design and celebrated interior designer Bria Hammel's knack for creating surprising, thoughtful spaces are a match made in heaven, creating a collection of kitchenware that is equally enjoyable to use and display.
